NOTICE TO THE MARKET

ALL – AMÉRICA LATINA LOGÍSTICA S.A. (“Company” or “ALL”) refers to the Official Letter GAE 0001-14 of January 2, 2014 translated below:

“The report published by the newspaper Folha de S.Paulo on December 31, 2013, under the headline “ALL pursued by the government - Dilma schedules a meeting on the next Monday to discuss the future of the company that controls the country’s largest railway network,” states, among other information, that América Latina Logística may even have its federal concession cancelled based on the outcome of this meeting.

We request clarification regarding the aforementioned report, as well as other information deemed relevant.”

The Company hereby announces that ALL has not been called on to take part in the abovementioned meeting and there is no argument with the Granting Power that might threaten the Company’s right over its railway concessions.

It is worth mentioning, pursuant to Notice to the Market of December 27, 2013, that, under any point of view, ALL has transformed the network in which it operates, with a large leap in its concessions’ production, productivity and safety. This result is a direct consequence of the investments made and of the strong improvement in its assets’ quality, including permanent way and rolling stock.

We highlight that ALL is the largest independent logistics company in Latin America, generates more than 12,000 jobs in Brazil and will continue to contribute to Brazilian logistics and the country’s development.

Curitiba, January 7, 2014.
